Gattefossé, a history of plants

Since 1880, Gattefossé has been a leading manufacturer of botanical extracts, inspired by nature and created for the cosmetic industry. Our knowledge of the vegetal world enables us to offer a complete range of plant and fruit extracts for cosmetic use.

Targeted extraction technologies

Our researchers develop and select responsible extraction processes to concentrate the best of nature, and therefore maintain all benefits of the fresh plant.

Environment being a major concern for Gattefossé, many of our extracts derive from the food processing industry, in the aim of sub-product valorization.

True benefits

Used as co-actives, botanical extracts present many advantages: they are easy to use and compatible with all types of cosmetic products.

Particularly rich in essential nutrients, our extracts can be used for moisturizing, nourishing and anti-aging benefits.

Fresh Cells™ are cellular suspensions of whole, fresh fruit cells, obtained by a specific enzymatic process. When they come in contact with the skin, they release their precious content into the skin.

Fruit Secrets™ is a range of concentrated fruit juices, offering their benefits to natural cosmetics. They provide the skin with its daily dose of natural substances such as trace elements, amino acids and vitamins.

Original Extracts™ are living waters truly designed for cosmetic formulations. Directly obtained from fruits or plants, they contain a well-balanced content of trace elements, mineral salts and essential oils.

Discover or rediscover our wide range of botanicals. Oily and/or water soluble, they bring a natural touch to any cosmetic formulation.

Textures

The texture is at the heart of a cosmetic product and is responsible for the creation of different sensations and reactions. Today, our experts use their creativity and expertise to innovate and create unique, functional, and sensorial lipidic ingredients, of natural origin and certified RSPO Segregated or Mass Balance when based on palm derivatives.

Formulation and sensory analysis

Our team of formulators oversees the evaluation of the performance and compatibility of our texture ingredients, and the creation of a wide range of cosmetic formulations. Their sensoriality is evaluated by our internal panel of sensory experts.
